

REAL Knowledge Program
2015-2016 Funded Recipients

The NSHRF’s REAL Knowledge Program addresses the knowledge needs of decision-makers within the Nova Scotia health system. With the aim to provide timely and pragmatic approaches to integrating evidence into decision-making processes, the REAL Knowledge Program is targeted at decision-makers and the questions they grapple with when developing policies, programs and services to improve the health of Nova Scotians.

The Knowledge Sharing Support Award (KSSA) is designed to support the further dissemination of completed research that benefits knowledge users and/or decision-makers within the health system.

Funded Applicants: 10
