

The Quest (John Ruedy Award) Recipients

The Quest Award is presented annually to the graduate student researcher who demonstrates the greatest promise and potential for excellence in health research. The Quest Award was created to honour John Ruedy, an outstanding example of leadership in health and health research in Nova Scotia.

Each institution may nominate one candidate for The Quest Award from those Master's and Doctoral applicants recommended to the NSHRF for the Scotia Scholars Award.

In addition to receiving this prestigious recognition, the Nova Scotia Health Authority contributes an annual award of $5,000 to assist the recipient with furthering his/ her research.
